Coach Diddle Recovering From Recent Operation

Coach Ed Diddle was reported in good condition at City - County Hospital this week following an operation last week for the removal of a kidney.

"He's doing fine," his physician Dr. W. R. McCormack said shortly after the operation.

Diddle Jr., basketball coach at Middle Tennessee State College in Murfreesboro, was at the hospital during the operation. Diddle had been feeling under par for several months. The major surgery followed several days of examination and observation.

The veteran will begin his 37th year as head basketball coach here next season.

Unequaled Record

During the past 36 years, Diddle has compiled a win-loss record while coaching at the same college which may never be equalled. In his 35 years as head coach prior to this season, Diddle has become the only coach to ever win over 600 games while at the same college.

Since taking over as head coach here in 1922, Diddle's teams have won 677 games and lost only 235. In tournament play the Diddlemen have won 123 and lost 37.

Tournaments include the Kentucky Conference, New York Invitational, National Campus tourney at Bradley University, All-College at Oklahoma City, Orange Bowl and Ohio Valley Conference playoffs.

During his stay here, he has coined new words and phrases almost as fast as his facial characteristics change in registering

Conn Electric Organ Installed In Van Meter

Western's first organ has been purchased. Through the efforts of a committee headed by Mr. Claude Rose, of the music faculty, an electric organ has been placed in Van Meter auditorium.

By a unanimous vote of the music faculty the two-manual Conn electric organ was found to sound more like a pipe organ than any of the others that were demonstrated.

The organ was purchased from the H. & H. Music Company, Evansville, Ind., area dealer. The manufacturers of the Conn instruments are in Elkhart, Ind.

Has Two Speakers

The organ has two complete speakers, consisting of six hi-fidelity units. These units will be installed on the balcony walls in permanent organ chambers.

The last work in electronic organs, this one has a full-pedal keyboard, two expression pedals, 19 stops, 14 couplers, and four tremolo tabs.

A natural oak finish was chosen to blend with the rest of the woodwork in Van Meter.

Permanent installation will place the console on the North balcony near the proscenium arch. This place will give the best acoustical results.

An engineer from the factory came when the delivery was made of the instrument to fit it correctly to the auditorium.

At Baccalaureate

The formal initiation of the organ will be Sunday night at the baccalaureate services. It will be

Miss Schlinker Joins Library Science Staff

Miss Jasper Schlinker of the Fort Knox High school will teach in the Library Science Department for the summer term. Miss Schlinker has her Bachelor's degree from Western with a major in Library Science and English and her Master's degree in Library Science from the Texas State College for Women, Denton, Tex.

Miss Schlinker, a native of Munfordville, has taught English at Fort Knox for a number of years and has also served as librarian there for another term of years.

NEW ADDITION — Trying out the new organ that has been added to Van Meter Auditorium is Mr. Claude Rose of the music faculty. Giving his approval of the new instrument's sound is Dr. Thomas Stone, head of the music department. The organ was officially inaugurated at Senior Day Chapel Wednesday, and will be presented publicly in a concert prior to the Baccalaureate Service Sunday evening.

Pause A Moment...
For Memory's Sake

By Bill Thomas

We are seniors and we are glad. In a few days we will be graduated from this institution. In a few days we will pass through the portals that lead into the outside world, perhaps many of us not to return to this spot on a hilltop overlooking the city of Bowling Green and the surrounding ridges of the Dripping Springs Escarpment.

But we not all are composed of gladness these few remaining days, for many of us realize what I have mentioned above. We are glad to be graduating, for we have been gnashing at the bit for the past four years or more for this one thing alone. But now, what?

We can no longer consider ourselves students. Our careers in school as 100 per cent pure college students are at an end. We must now take up our burdens — our responsibilities — and move out into a world shattered by chaos. . . . shadowed by both war clouds and threats of a depression.

The world is no more troubled than it was a hundred years ago, but it is more complicated and confused over that which it does have. Greater wisdom is required today than ever before. . . . and yet, here we are — college seniors — future leaders. Do we feel adequate?

But, fellow seniors, we must not hesitate or falter. Let it not be said that we are cowards even though we are frightened. Let it not be said that we are afraid to accept the challenge. But before we accept the challenge, let's take one fleeting moment to pause for memory's sake.

Before we become swept up in the maelstrom of the vicious circles of today's world, let us permit our thoughts to ramble and ponder over all the days we have spent on this campus. Remember all the faces you have met here on this pinnacle? Do you recall all the little incidents, the sparkling be-diamonded incidents which have occurred to you here during the past four years? Yes, we remember full well. We dare not forget.

Four years ago we were freshmen. . . . plain, unattached, untouched, and many of us, unpenetrated. We were 663 strong. We came for various reasons. Some of these were not good enough. . . . at least, they did not withstand the test of time. Some of us were unfortunate and had to drop by the wayside. Some of us did not. We represent the 360 to be graduated June 5, and August 8.

But now, let us pause no longer. The time has come to say farewell. With the rest of you, fellow seniors, I bid the faculty, the student body, this mighty hilltop, the spirit of Western, farewell.

However, I would be different from the rest of you now. . . . for there is another farewell which I must bid which I fear you never knew existed except in a trite kind of way. Now, I must bid farewell to a twittering leaf which clung to a tree on this hilltop all through the winter's wind and rain. I must bid farewell to chattering squirrel who never knew the spirit of Western. I must bid farewell to a feathery snowflake which I caught in a glimpse as it drifted past my window I must say goodbye to a blooming dandelion which you but merely trod upon. These are as much the spirit of Western as we.

But now, no more of this. Let us part our ways. And may I say to you now, for lack of opportunity later — farewell. . . . and good luck forever.

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Second Semester 1957-58

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday — June 2, 3, 4, 5, 1958
Final examinations, two periods in length, will be given in all courses at the end of the present semester. These examinations must be taken by all students except graduating seniors with superior records. A list of these students will be posted by the Registrar's office on or before Friday, May 30.

The examinations will be held in the regular classrooms and at the hours indicated in the schedule unless special arrangement has been made in advance with the Head of the Department and the Dean of the College. No changes of any kind by either students or faculty will be possible except in cases of emergency.

All classes will meet according to the schedule for the second semester until noon Saturday, May 31. No classes will meet during the regular examination period, June 2 to June 5.

Please note that the examination periods have been arranged according to class periods and course credits. For example, in courses meeting on Monday, at 8:00 a. m. and carrying credits of three or more hours, the examination will be held Monday, from 8:00-9:40 a. m.

With our present plan of scheduling courses, a few conflicts in examination periods will inevitably occur. Teachers should report these to the Dean's Office for adjustment and notify their students of whatever changes may be necessary. The schedule follows:

Table with 3 columns: Class Period, Course Credit, Examination Period. Rows show schedules for Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

SPECIAL NOTE:
1. Final examination in Saturday classes will be held Saturday, May 31.

Musical Notes

By Francine Walker

Today all the majors of the Music Department are before the "supreme court" (jury) examinations. This is a means to find out if the students have practiced on their instrument or voice during the semester.

Last night Miss Margaret Lyons and Mr. David Barker presented their joint — senior recital in Van Meter auditorium. Both gave a group of numbers lasting a total of over an hour.

Mr. Ohm Pauli has forgotten to hand out his cigars to the other members of the faculty since the arrival of his new son, Jon Warren.

Probably the biggest news for the Music department and for the entire Hill is the acquisition of Western's first organ. This organ, a Conn, was secured through the efforts of a committee headed by Mr. Claude Rose of the music faculty.

The new instrument will be used at the baccalaureate services this Sunday night.

Mr. Rose will play a fifteen minute recital before the exercises. Both the processional and recessional will be played on the organ.

That "lucky ole' sun" left the stadium in perfect condition for the "Pops" Concert Tuesday, May 20.

Several students and supporters of the Symphonic Band gathered at dusk to the strains of march tunes, jazz rumbas, and soliloquies.

Six seniors will be leaving the band this June. They were recognized between numbers.

Mr. Edward Knob, band director, gave an invitation to anyone interested in marching with the Marching Band next fall. The season begins September 15. All these interested are requested to notify Mr. Knob before June 4.

He added that this was an easy way to lose 15 pounds.

Book Marks

The Library is ending another year of service to the students and faculty of the college. To be sure, a library is, or should be, one of the most important services of any college community. It probably ranks second only to the classroom as a place of study.

A survey of attendance and circulation records for the Library from September, 1957 to April, 1958 reveals several interesting facts.

For every month except September, the attendance in the Periodical Room was above that recorded for last year, while that in the Main Reading Room was larger beginning with October. Since January of this year, the Library has served a number of people equalling the entire population of Warren County. The attendance is recorded each hour on the half-hour; it is not a count of persons who come into the Library, but a count of those who spend some time there reading, studying, or browsing.

Mrs. Mary Rountree, social director of Potter Hall, has recently placed in the Kentucky Library two interesting momentoes of racing in Kentucky. One is the small and delicate racing shoe which was cast by Mollie McCarthy during her famous race with Tea Broeck; the other is the "Official Programme, July 4, 1878 for the extra July meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club," at Churchill Downs, Louisville, where the race was run.

Mrs. Rountree's great-uncle, leaning on the rail during the great race saw the shoe fall, he rushed out on the track immediately following the race to pick it up. He brought the shoe and program home with him where they have been carefully preserved by his family.

During the spring and summer of 1878, the main topic of conversation in Kentucky had been the wagering and winning of the race between Tea Broeck, the pride of the Bluegrass, and Mollie McCarthy, the filly from the Golden West, who had never

HILLTOPICS

By BETTY SPRADLYN

Only a few more days remain for some of us here on the Hill to be called students. Naturally all of us will be glad when that much awaited time for commencement is here. Yet there will be a note of sadness in the hearts of each of us as we receive our diplomas.

Graduation is definitely a time of mixed emotions. For us it is a time of looking ahead and of reminiscing — an accomplishment long-awaited and a dream come true — a time of gratitude to friends, parents and teachers.

Underneath these, there is a feeling of nostalgia. This has been our home for four years. Here is where one learns to depend on himself, to choose his friends, to make decisions and prepare himself for some sort of career. We now realize that the Hill has been a stepping stone in our life and we wonder if we have taken the fullest possible advantage of the opportunity.

But life goes on and the four years on the Hill are almost the past. Enough memories for a lifetime have been accumulated here — the hard work, the fun, the laughter and tears with friends, the nights burning the midnight oil and the gay carefree days.

All of these memories will linger with us. We will never forget the guidance we have received from the faculty without whose care and patience our goal would never have been reached. I feel that I am speaking for every member of the senior class when I say that we shall not be saying goodbye to the Western campus when at last we are graduated. Nobody ever said goodbye to Western. You can't say farewell to something that will always be a part of your life.

It is a sad occasion when a Herald editor must write 30 to her writing career, for 30 in journalism means the end. For the past two years it has been my privilege to edit the newspaper of this college, and during that time I have done my utmost to help bring you the very best in news and happenings of Western. It was announced in the last issue that Carl Chelf and Bob Wilson will head the staff next year, as editor and advertising manager, respectively. It is not by chance these boys were chosen. They have been working on the paper as reporters this year and have shown excellent journalistic ability.

I feel sure that in next year's Herald you will continue to receive the best in newspaper reporting that will continue to make it one of the best in college newspapers throughout the United States. My personal thanks go to many people without whose help the publication of this paper would have been impossible. Among these are: Miss Frances Richards, journalism teacher and sponsor, for her untiring patience and understanding; Mr. Robert Cochran, general manager, and Tom Emberton, advertising manager; Mrs. Grace Overly, Carlyse Barber and Bettie Joy Schuette; the journalism classes; the mechanical department at the Park City Daily News under the supervision of Mr. Maxie Jackson; and the faculty and students who were most cooperative in supplying information for various articles.

New Brochure Receives Praise In Newspaper

(Editor's Note: The following article is taken from the May 26 issue of the Park City Daily News. It appeared in "Park Row Paragraphs" and was written by Ray Gaines, editor of the Daily News.)

Western Kentucky State College has just published an attractive new brochure that does a splendid job of depicting pictorially the Western campus and student life there.

Any attempt to describe this publication in these paragraphs would naturally be futile, since it is comprised almost entirely of pictures accompanied by only brief reading matter. But perhaps the brochure's foreword and the words of welcome written by E. Kelly Thompson, Western's president, will convey some idea of the contents.

"An intimate glimpse of Western Kentucky State College is presented in these pages with a pictorial journey across College Heights," the foreword advises. "The true Western lies in the realms of human relationships, experiences and memories afforded only to those who live or have lived within the portals of this great college. From this story in pictures it is hoped that one may glean at least a touch of the spirit and beauty that have raised Western in its first half century of existence to a prominent position among the educational institutions of the nation. Promise for the future is even brighter as Western moves to greater heights as a place where youth may realize far-sighted ambitions."

The welcome by Western's president occupies the next page and is phrased as follows:

"The latch string at Western is out to aspiring youth. The welcome mat is in place for you who would broaden your horizon through learning. We solicit your attention and interest if you desire a college education within an atmosphere of friendliness and amidst the inspiration of high standards and ideals."

"We hope that this pictorial presentation of the physical Western Kentucky State College may give you some estimate of what lies deeper within. For a full exploration of the latter, we invite your personal inquiry or visit, and ultimately your presence as a Western student."

And this reminds us that Western already has been visited by a host of high school students this spring. Events such as Senior Day, regional and state Music Festivals, FFA meetings, etc., have brought prep students to College Heights literally by the thousands.

How many of the seniors in this group will actually return to matriculate at Western is of course anybody's guess, but it is difficult to see how visitors to the campus this spring could have been other than favorably impressed with its beauty and well-kept appearance.

And in making this statement we merely reiterate an observation we have heard from several other Bowling Green citizens in recent weeks.

ball at Henderson before coming to Western in 1949. He became a leading passer during the 1950 and 1951 seasons, and was named Little All-American in 1952. In his four years at Western, culminated by the Refrigerator Bowl in 1952, this 150 pounder accounted for an appalling 3,794 yards by passing, throwing 30 touchdowns, 15 of them his senior year.

Feix served a term in the Air Force after completing his BS degree as an ROTC graduate officer.

Feix is married to the former Miss Frankie Biggers of Bowling Green, and has one son, Jimmy, Age 4.

Dr. Mary I. Cole Attends NEA Conference

Dr. Mary I. Cole is to represent the state of Kentucky at the Sponsor's Conference during the National Student NEA convention at Bowling Green, Ohio, June 21 thru 24.

Only one sponsor from each state is invited and Western is being honored because it has the largest SNEA membership in Kentucky, and because the state president, Miss Beverly Belcher, is a student at Western Kentucky State College. Only the state president and one sponsor from each state will be attending the conference.

Student Featured On Television

Cheryl Rose, student at College High and daughter of Mr. Claude Rose, music instructor on the Hill, and Mrs. Rose, appeared on a two-hour WHAS-TV program Sunday, May 18.

The program featured the Kentucky music students who have gained superior ratings in the state.

For her selection, Miss Rose chose "concerto for Viola" by Hoffmeister.

Western Boasts Tops In Pre-Medical Curriculum For Students

Through the years numerous graduates from Western have made contributions to our society. They have left Western and gone on to great achievements, making themselves quite well known. In the picture above is a group of Western students who are preparing to enter society in the field of medicine.

Already Western is able to boast quite a list of distinguished persons in the medical field and surely more are to come in the future.

Entering Med School

The following young men have already been admitted to either a medical or dental school, according to a recent announcement by Dr. L. Y. Lancaster, member of the Biology department.

James V. Bebbler, a biology major and chemistry minor from Taylorsville, N. C., has been admitted to the School of Dentistry, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Charles Cooper, a chemistry and biology major from Tallahassee, Fla., will attend Vanderbilt Medical School.

Wade Allen Crowder from Mayfield will also attend Vanderbilt. A major in biology and a minor in chemistry, Al was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, was president of the Biology club, and was a member of the Student Advisory Council.

Fielding W. Daniel is a social science, biology, and chemistry major from Rockfield. He has been admitted to the University of Louisville School of Medicine.

Western Players Meet Has Two-Fold Purpose

A double-feature program for the May meeting of the Western Players held in the Memorial Room of the Student center included a testimonial appreciation for faculty director Russell H. Miller and a guest speaker.

The student-inspired dedication to Mr. Miller included a reading from his own drama, "Giants Lie Sleeping," by Pat Stiff and a presentation of awards and mementoes by Marybeth Wilson, Walter Langsford, Diann Weldon, Lacey Wallace, Brank McKinsey, Joyce Mosley Davidson, Bradley Shaw, Jim Head, and Mary Ruth Grise.

Mr. Ted Cronk who has served as general manager of Berea's "Wilderness Road" for the past three years, and is now employed by the state of Kentucky to spearhead the proposed out-door drama based on the life of Stephen Collins Foster to be presented at Bardstown next summer was the guest of the Players for the occasion. Mr. Cronk discussed the origin and growth of the out-door movement in drama from its origin in 1937 with "The Lost Colony" to the presently proposed new play for Kentucky. His emphasis was on the opportunities these productions offered for college students as theater training and summer employment.

The new organizational plan based upon a Board of Managers for the Western Players adopted by the executive council was presented and accepted in the business session that followed. Joyce Mount acting as Chairman of the Nominating Committee presented the committee's selections for membership to the first Managing Board. The slate presented was elected by the club for its 1958-59 leaders. Bradley Shaw, public relations representative, presented the 1958 yearbook or history to the group at this meeting.

Walter Langsford was chosen Chairman for the first Board of Managers. Barbara Hawkins was selected for Secretary to the Board of Managers. Elected included Lacey Wallace as Business Manager, Joe Walsh as Publicity Manager, Pat Stiff as Personnel Manager, John Minton as State Manager, and Jo Ann Hall as Program Coordinator.

been beaten and was reported to be unbeatable.

Sectional rivalry reached a high peak, as well as betting, long before the special meet. A large purse of $10,000 was at stake. To quote from the program, this main event was the fourth race of the day: "Ten Broeck and Mollie McCarthy, Four mile heats. Match for $10,000."

A crowd of 30,000 assembled to watch the contest on the hottest July 4 in the history of Kentucky. Ten Broeck won in a decisive manner to the great satisfaction of the Kentuckians. James Landy Ellis wrote his popular poem, "Ten Broeck," to commemorate this race, which is one of the most widely known in American turf history.

Frank B. Harper, who raced "Ten Broeck," commenced the first horse graveyard in America at his stock farm, Nature, with monuments erected to Longfellow, Lexington, Ten Broeck, and other famous horses of the establishment. This stock farm is still one of the most popular tourist attractions near Lexington.

While there she visited Sibley House, the home of Henry Hastings Sibley, the State Capitol, James J. Hill Mansion, Hamline University, Pillsbury Kitchens, Old Fort Snelling, and many other places of interest.

She also came in contact with three of her former students: Dr. Hugh Ager, history teacher at Culvert Military Academy; Joe M. Robertson, who is now Minnesota State Tax Commissioner, and his wife, the former Virginia Mansfield, all of whom are graduates of Western.

Courier Magazine Features Campus

Western's Campus was featured in the Courier Journal Magazine section Sunday the twenty fifth.

The article, by Joe Creason, staff reporter for the Courier, explained the replating and sodding program going on on the campus in an effort to replace the trees and shrubs hurt by the dry spell a few years ago.

Landscape Supervisor

Mrs. Paul L. Garrett, wife of the late president Garrett, is the campus landscape supervisor, a position created by president Thompson shortly after his appointment to office. Miss Elizabeth Woods, former modern languages teacher at the college, was first on the Hill to head any landscaping program. Self-appointed, Miss Woods headed a campaign to clear out the tangle of trees and vines that abounded on the Hill in the early days of the school.

Later, she and Miss Florence Ragland, first librarian, sparked a drive to beautify the campus by having students bring roses, bushes, trees, and bulbs. "Some of the magnolia trees that grew from seedlings put in the ground then still are standing."

Mrs. Garrett made plain the farsighted planning that must go into this work in her statement to the reporter. "In doing this planting, we have to think not just how the trees and shrubs look now, but how they will look 25 years from now."

Preceding the resodding program is the clearing out of more undergrowth in an effort to rid the campus of the poison ivy that victimizes students every year.

DR. MOORE GOES ABROAD

Dr. Earl A. Moore, member of the English department, will be on leave from Western during the coming summer term. During this time, he will be on a tour through Europe and the Middle East. month beginning with the October figures. Circulation for March and April was largest of any year for the past five.

Several factors have contributed to the increase in both attendance and circulation. The freshman class was unusually large, the student body in general was superior, and there was increased emphasis by faculty and administration on scholarship and achievement.

One way in which the Library grows is by accepting gifts of books and material from faculty members, students, and friends of the college. Donors of books to the Library this year have been Dr. Mary I. Cole, Miss Frances Richards, Miss Ella B. Smith, Paul Wilder, and Mrs. Thomas Wickersham. Mrs. Wickersham's gift included volumes from the fine classical library of her father, Dr. Bailey Browder.

Much Work Done

In the interest of better service to students and faculty members, much behind-the-scenes work goes on in a library. This frequently involves the shifting and re-arranging of books and magazines. With the aid of several young men, the magazine collection, government documents, and duplicate collection of books have all been shifted, making additional space for the constantly expanding collection.

Noteworthy additions to the Library's collection this past year include the remaining volumes in the Skira set of the great centuries of painting, the 1958 Americana Encyclopedia, all titles of Notable Books and Distinguished Children's Books of 1957, Moody's Investors Service Manuals, the first published volumes of the New Oxford History of Music, the Bibliography of American Literature, published by the Yale University Press, and the new Cambridge Modern History.

Just as a library is a place of study, so it is a place of leisurely reading for the pure enjoyment of it. There is no better time than the summer months to read that book you've been wanting to read. Visit your hometown library this summer! Don't neglect the good habit of reading just because you are on vacation.

Gour Added To ROTC Staff

SFC. Robert A. Gour has recently been added to the Military Science Department. He is serving as chief clerk, filling the job formerly held by Sgt. Sam Nuckolls, who was transferred earlier this semester to Fort Knox.

Sergeant Gour is a native of Marlboro, Mass. He has been in the Army for 11 years, thus making a career of the service. Sergeant Gour comes to Western from Germany where he just completed a tour of duty.

Sergeant Gour and his wife, Betty, have three children Jeanne, 7; Barbara, 3; and Bob, 2. They are currently living on College Street.

Active in Sports

Basketball, baseball, softball, and bowling are Sergeant Gour's main attractions in the field of sports.

His basketball team was company team winner in Germany and Panama. In Germany he played with Headquarters Specialty Troops of 7th Army. This honor came after beating several top-notch service ball clubs which included some top ex-college stars.

His company in Germany were softball champs in 1956, besides being kings of the hardwood.

Sergeant Gour's main sports accomplishments came in bowling. On again in Germany during 1956-57, the Headquarters Specialty Troops of 7th Army carried off top honors. Then in 1957-58 Sergeant Gour won at the American Bowling Congress in contention with hundreds of other league teams.

His sports collections include trophies of different sizes and letters of the various companies he played with.

Korean Vet

Sergeant Gour is a veteran of the Korean Campaign. He also attended a Non-Commissioned Officer school at Fort Lee, Va., and Personnel school at Eta Jima, Japan.

When asked how he liked Western, Sergeant Gour said he considered Western as the best assignment he has had since he entered the Army.

The state convention of the Future Homemakers of America will be held on Western's campus June 9 through the 11. Between 750 and 800 girls and their sponsor are expected to attend.

The FHA is the national association for high school home economists. A few of the purposes of FHA are to promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking; to promote international good will; to foster the development of creative leadership in home and community life, and to further interest in home economics.

A fish fry in the stadium, and a smorgasbord are some of the events planned for the convention. The Home Economics department of Western will sponsor a tea for the group.

'Topper Netmen Take OVC Tournament

With their backs to the wall all the way here May 16, 17, Western's courageous fighting tennis crew, led by its three seniors, Ballard Moore, Bob Gover, and George Kinslow, swept a Murray team off their feet to capture the Ohio Valley Conference tennis crown.

With seven colleges competing for the coveted crown, the tournament soon turned into a Western-Murray duel for the championship.

The tournament was deadlocked when the Racers walked off the court in the final and decisive match to hand the Toppers a default victory in the No. 2 doubles and decide the team championship.

Western's Bob Gover, who was the real hero of the triumph, won two championships. He took the No. 2 singles and then teamed with Allen Hilsmeier to take the

No. 2 doubles.

George Kinslow won at the No. 3 spot and freshman Bill Pedigo scored in the No. 5.

Murray's wins were booked by hard-hitting Johnny King in the No. 1 singles, by Joe Orr in the No. 4, and by Johnny King and Orr in the No. 1 doubles.

Western finished with 29 points. Murray, who had won the O. V. C. title two years running, scored 27. The two points Western got for winning the No. 2 doubles decided it.

Trailing were East Tennessee and Morehead with 11 points each, Eastern Kentucky with 10, Middle Tennessee with 9 and Tennessee Tech. with 8.

Johnny King gave a superior exhibition of power tennis to defeat Western's Ballard Moore, 6-3, 6-2, in the feature No. 1 singles.

The triumph saved Western from a team shutout in the O. V. C.'s school year of titles.

On Sept. 20, 1954, Moore first began playing tennis in Coach Hornback's tennis class. Realizing the boy's potential, he quickly went to work on him and by spring he made the team.

By his junior year he was playing in the number one spot; while at Western he compiled a splendid 46-9 singles record.

Bob Gover, the man who lent the big punch to the Western team this year, was undefeated in 12 singles matches this year.

Coach Hornback is to be congratulated on his team's victory. His way of saying just the right words at the right time makes him the great coach he is.

As a reward, Coach Hornback treated his team to a steak dinner at his home last Thursday evening.

SUMMARY: No. 1 singles: Final - Johnny King (Murray) defeated Ballard Moore (Western), 6-3, 6-2. No. 2 singles: Final: Bob Gover (Western) defeated Bob King (Murray), 6-3, 6-2. No. 3 singles: Final: George Kinslow (Western) defeated Monroe Sloan (Murray), 9-7, 6-0. No. 4 singles: Final: Joe Orr (Murray) defeated Allen Hilsmeier (Western), 6-1, 6-3. No. 5 singles: Final: Bill Pedigo (Western) defeated Don Fezor (Murray), 6-4, 6-4.

No. 1 doubles: Final - J. King-Orr (Murray) defeated Moore-Kinslow (Western), 6-1, 6-2. No. 2 doubles: Final - Gover - Hilsmeier (Western) defeated Sloan-R. King (Murray), 14-12, 3-6, 5-1, default.

Wayne Smith Hurls 4-3 Victory Over Eastern

Wayne Smith hurled Western to a 4-3 victory over Eastern here Monday in the Hilltoppers' last OVC game of the 1958 campaign. The win gave the Toppers a 3-2 record in the conference standings.

Smith was in and out of trouble throughout the game. He was helped by a Western double play in the third inning, but in most instances, the Maroon batters found themselves going down on strike-outs.

Jim Richards' big bat sparked the Topper offense. Richards, leading off, smacked a home run of the tape measure variety in the first inning. He also drove in the third Western run in the fifth with a single, and he hit a single in the third.

Western led 3-1 in the top of the sixth, but at this point, the Toppers' defense collapsed momentarily. An error put a Maroon on first. Then a misjudged fly brought both runners across the plate, tying the score 3-3.

The Hilltoppers scored what proved to be the winning run in the last of the seventh. Dick Smithson walked, reached second on a sacrifice, tagged up and headed for third after the catch of Ernie Rautter's long drive to centerfield. But the centerfielder's throw got away from the third baseman, allowing Smithson to plate the run that made it 4-3.

Western's Montgomery Heads Victory

Chet Montgomery supplied the power and Willard Smith turned in a good afternoon's work on the mound, as Western was impressive in a 9-2 baseball rout over Belmont College here Thursday, May 15.

Montgomery pounded the ball for ten total bases — a home run and two triples — in three trips to the plate. Smith had good control and the Belmont batsmen could not solve his windmill delivery. He allowed only two singles over the last five innings.

Western held only a 3-2 lead going into the last of the sixth. But at this point the Hilltoppers broke the game wide open. Five runs crossed the plate, two of them on Ernie Rautter's single and two more on Montgomery's second-triple of the day.

Tom Fry had suffered a pulled muscle and was not used in the Belmont game. He was replaced at second base by Rocky Lane, who lined a single in the big sixth inning.

Montgomery's home run, a towering drive to left field, closed the scoring for both teams in the seventh inning. Catcher Rautter also had a 3-for-3 day, socking two singles and a double.

'Toppers Close Third In OVC Golf Tourney

Western's golf team ended its season last week with a third place finish in the Ohio Valley Conference Tourney. Middle Tennessee's Blue Raiders are the new champs and finished with a 523 total score. One notch behind was Tennessee Tech.

The linksmen of Coach Frank Griffin did successfully defend their mythical state championship with solid wins over Eastern and the University of Kentucky at Lexington. This made their season record read 9 wins and 3 losses. Composing this year's team were Donnie Wood, Jim Gilbert, Russ Williams, Gerald Belcher and Darrell Pulliam.

Middle Tenn. Baseballers Take Western

Middle Tennessee's Raiders proved that they have the Indian sign on Western as they thumped the Hilltoppers 16-4 at Murfreesboro last Tuesday.

It was the second time that Middle Tennessee has beaten Western. The first time was here ten days ago, when the Raiders won their first game of the season. The loss left Western with a 7-4 record.

Middle Tennessee shelled previously unbeaten Larry Doughty in their nine-run second inning. The Raiders win featured a three-run homer by Bill Renegar and some speedy base running by Ray Purvis and Don Tasse. The two stole nine bases between them.

Centerfielder Jim Richards was about the story as far as Western's offense was concerned. Smacking two hits, Richards batted in three runs and scored the fourth.

Charley Care once again was the winning pitcher, stopping the "Toppers on seven hits. He went all the way, fanning six and walking three.

The eleventh annual May Luncheon of the Music Educators club was held Saturday, May 17, at 12:30 p. m. at the Olde Fort. Miss Daphne McCord, president of Music Educators, served as toastmaster for the program which followed the luncheon.

The program had a three-fold purpose - to honor Mrs. Nelle Gooch Travelstead, to present the Senior Honor Cup, and the election and installation of the 1958-1959 president of Music Educators.

The toasts to Mrs. Travelstead were given by an alumnus, a student, a member of the music faculty, and by Western's president.

Mrs. C. W. Duncan, an alumnus, renewed old memories of former school days in Mrs. Travelstead's classes in the Training School and the College. She spoke of her as a "dedicated" person who never brought her home problems to class.

Student Representative
The student, Mrs. Marcia Williams, recalled her college days in the unforgettable Sight-singing class. Marcia also stressed Mrs. Travelstead's wonderful quality of being a mother to her students. Dr. Thomas Stone represented the music faculty and he spoke of Mrs. Travelstead's outstanding qualities of leadership and her unforgettable personality.

his various moods.

Diddle played four years of basketball and football for Centre College with the colorful Bo McMillan of the squad of Praying Colonels during 1917, 1919 and 1920. In 1918 both saw service in the Army.

Diddle missed his first high school baseball tournament in many years due to the operation but hung by the telephones to keep posted on results. He is also coach of the Western baseballers.
